

U.S. Loan for Steel Mill in Lafayette Co.

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Approval of a $977,763 Area Redevelopment Administration loan to help Lafayette County finance a $1,504,250 steel mill was announced in Washington Thursday.

Plans of the Magnolia Steel Corp. to build the facility were announced at a countywide meeting Wednesday night.

The Magnolia Steel Corp. is owned by W. H. Hoster of Oklahoma City, who operates plants in several states.

Dr. W. J. Lee, president of the Lafayette County Industrial Development Corp., said the mill would employ 108 the first year with an annual payroll of $900,000. Employment is expected to reach 158 and the payroll $1 million the second year.

The plant will use scrap iron and local iron ore deposits to produce steel reinforcing bars. It will have a capacity of 6,000 tons of bars a month.

Lee said the mill should be in operation within 10 months. It will be located on the south edge of Stamps.

McNab Man Critically Hurt in Wreck

Elijah Spates, 81-year-old McNab man, was critically injured early last night in an auto accident on the Fulton river bridge.

Mr. Spates was rushed to a local hospital where his arm was amputated. His condition is critical.

A son of the elder Spates, Claud, about 50, was driver of the auto which hit the bridge abutment on the west side, according to State Policeman W. T. Brewster. He was treated for minor injuries in a Texarkana hospital.

Patrolman Brewster charged the driver with driving while intoxicated. The river bridge was blocked four about 30 minutes while the wreckage was cleared.

MISS NEW ORLEANS FRECKLES — Freckles were as plentiful as the grains of sand on the Lake Pontchartrain Beach in New Orleans as the recreation department held its annual Freckle Derby. Eleven-year-old Michele Arendt, competing with 31 other freckled-faced finalists, was judged the freckled-faced champ of New Orleans.

Search for Escapees Intensified

MCGEEHEE, Ark. (AP) — Officers caught an escaped prisoner from the Cummins State Prison Farm and the Lake Village Jail today in a soybean field three miles south of McGeehee.

Deputy Sheriff Earl May said Philip Fisher, 35, of Eudora, was taken without resistance. He said a posse spotted Fisher in woods and chased him in the soybean field, then watched the soybean plants wiggle as Fisher crawled through the field.

Deputies circled the field and were waiting for Fisher when he crawled out. He was taken to the Desha County Jail in Arkansas City.

Gene Redwine, 34, of McGeehee, who escaped from the Lake Village Jail with Fisher July 29, was still being sought. He ran from his home in McGeehee Thursday night with his wife and child as shields and escaped from police.

May said Redwine escaped on foot. The deputy said Redwine was wearing a black cowboy hat. The men were arrested in connection with a series of burglaries in southeast Arkansas.

May said McGeehee police received a report Thursday night of an argument at the apartment house where Redwine's family lives. One officer went to investigate and found Redwine and his wife arguing in the street. Phillips was there, but he ran when the officer approached, May said. Redwine and his wife went back into the house, May said, and the officer summoned help. As May and another policeman arrived, Redwine came out with his wife and child in front of him. He forced them to accompany him 100 yards down an alley, then released them and ran into the darkness, May said.

Fisher was a trusty at Cummins State Prison Farm and May said he had been leaving on off-hours and returning to the farm in time for guard duty. He was arrested while he was out, May said. He was serving a three-year term for robbery.

May said both Fisher and Redwine were armed and dangerous. Both were wearing black cowboy hats, he said.

Residents of southeast Arkansas were warned not to leave keys in parked automobiles. There have been three car thefts in the area in the past week.

The men escaped from the jail by cutting through window bars with a hacksaw blade that had been smuggled into the jail. They dropped to the ground on blanket ropes.

Betty Jane Phillips, 10-year-old Negro girl, sustained a head injury yesterday when she ran into the side of a car driven by Miss Nettie Block. The incident occurred at Greenwood and Laurel Streets.

City Officers said the girl's head hit the brace that holds the windshield on the side of the car. She was kept overnight in a local hospital but released today.

Wants to Tag U. S. Aid to the Rights Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight

Republican senators introduced an amendment to the administration's civil rights bill today to prohibit racial discrimination under all federal aid programs.

It would make a cut off of funds mandatory, instead of discretionary as proposed by President Kennedy, but provision would be made for judicial review.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told the Senate he has brought the amendment to the attention of Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who disclosed Thursday the administration is revising its original proposal, but didn't say what changes he had in mind in this part of the administration's 7-point civil rights program.

Keating expressed hope that the Capital Gain Revision Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sweeping revision of the capital gains tax was agreed on today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

This cleared the way for the tax writers to complete next week their version of a proposed $10 billion over-all tax cut bill.

The House is expected to vote on the bill in September.

With most of the details settled, the committee expects to come to grips next week with the question that interests most individual taxpayers—what new rates will be recommended?

These apparently cannot be as low as President Kennedy proposed, since the committee has not provided as much counterbalancing revenue gain as the President suggested.

A rough estimate by a committee spokesman today was that the revisions so far agreed on would increase revenues, directly and indirectly, by about $1 billion during the first year.

The committee still has under consideration some further changes that could raise the estimate.

Kennedy's proposed revenue code revisions would have raised an estimated $3.2 billion to offset against the losses from rate slashes.

The committee still appeared to be aiming at a net tax reduction approaching Kennedy's goal of $10 billion.

In its action on taxation of capital gains—the profit on investments and other assets sold after a specific holding period—the committee recommended setting up a new category that would benefit owners who held the assets as long as two years.

At present, capital gains on assets held as long as six months carry a maximum tax rate of 25 per cent. Alternatively, a taxpayer may include 50 per cent of his capital gains along with his income for tax purposes.

The committee proposed that gains on assets held as long as two years be taxed at a maximum rate of 21 per cent, instead of 25. Or, if it was to the taxpayer's advantage, he might include 40 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, in his income.

Gains on assets held from six months to two years would be taxed as at present.

Butts Denies Passing Data to Anyone

ATLANTA (AP)—Wallace Butts, who took Georgia's football team to its first bowl game, said today in federal court that he had never divulged any information about his university's squad to any opposing coach.

"Emphatically no," the stocky, graying Butts replied when asked if he had given data on Georgia's team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama last fall.

"Have you in any conversation with Coach Bryant over the telephone or in person ever discussed with him what the University of Georgia planned to do in a game with the University of Alabama?"

"No."

"Is there any doubt in your mind about it?"

"Absolutely not."

Butts, who resigned Feb. 28 as Georgia's athletic director after 21 years of coaching there, took the stand as the opening witness in the fifth day of testimony in his $10 million libel suit against Curtis Publishing Co. Butts sued because an article in the Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post charged him and Bryant with rigging the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game. Alabama won 35-0.

Butts said he had known Bryant for many years, had often talked with him about football and particularly about some new rule interpretations last fall.

Butts denied he had ever discussed with Bryant information contained in notes which an Atlanta insurance salesman said he made while listening to a Butts-Bryant telephone conversation last Sept. 13, nine days before the game.

Two former Alabama football players have testified their team was not prepared for an offensive playing formation employed by Georgia in the 1962 game.

Entries in Turtle Derby Finals

GOULD, Ark. (AP)—Eight turtles were entered in the finals of the 15th annual Turtle Derby at Gould Thursday, but five never left the post.

The winner was a terrapin, the smallest entrant in the race and the only land-rover in the bunch. The others were water turtles, most of which were caught in the Arkansas River bottoms.

The terrapin won $25 for its owner, Tom Free Jr., of Gould, who had just bought it from Paul Greer, 11, of North Little Rock, for $5.

Paul, who found the terrapin in his back yard, entered it in the preliminaries, but didn't want to pay the $5 entrance fee for the finals.

The winner of each of the eight qualifying heats was entered in the finals. The turtles were placed in a wire enclosure at the center of a circle 30 feet in diameter.

When the wire was raised, the turtles were supposed to make for the finish line.

The terrapin, named Sonny Martin after a disc jockey at a Little Rock radio station (KAAY), headed straight for the line, followed by No. 1235 and No. 1248.

No. 1248 stopped halfway to the line, then made a belated bid when Sonny and No. 1235 changed course, but his competitors regained their bearings and scrambled over the line well in front.

About 45 turtles were entered in the derby, which is sponsored by the Gould Lions Club.

Glenda Vonne Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lambert of Dumas, was named Miss Turtle Derby in a beauty pageant Thursday night.

Transmission Line

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Southwestern Power Administration has applied to the Army Engineers at Little Rock for a permit to construct an overhead electric transmission line across the Arkansas River about 1,800 feet upstream from the Dardanelle Dam. The 161-kilovolt line would be suspended from towers on either bank. It would have a span length of 2,683 feet and a vertical clearance of 79 feet.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hundreds of residents in the northeast section of the city were hospitalized today by a reported leakage from a chlorine gas tank, police reported.

The tank is believed to be in a chemical plant.

Although details were not immediately available early reports indicated many persons were taken to two hospitals.

The area is both residential and industrial.

Bates Cold Shouldered by Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas NAACP field secretary L. C. Bates got the cold shoulder from two Arkansas congressional leaders Thursday when he asked them to vote for President Kennedy's proposed civil rights legislation.

Bates, of Little Rock, said Sen. John L. McClellan and Rep. Oren Harris said they would not support the legislation under any conditions.

"Sen. McClellan said he did not believe that the government had any business telling the people with whom they should associate," said Bates after a 20-minute conference with the senator.

"I told him I found nothing in the bill that would tell a person as to whom he is supposed to associate," Bates said.

He said he told McClellan that the bill wasn't designed to force people to mix or love each other.

"As I see it the bill is designed to change people's practices," Bates said.

Bates said Harris expressed "sympathy for us but said he could not vote for the bill. He quoted Harris as saying that the bill probably will pass in Congress."

Harris said later that Bates had misinterpreted his remarks. "I did not say the bill would pass Congress," Harris said. "I said it was very likely that, as in the past, a civil rights bill would probably pass the House. But I expressed some doubt as to whether the bill would get through the Senate, and so did he."

Bates was in Washington for a three-day NAACP legislative conference. NAACP officials tried to arrange meetings with other Arkansas congressmen, but the meetings were not held.

Bates presented his plea for support to 10 members of the Massachusetts delegation. Later he said Sen. Edward Kennedy, the President's brother, and the other Massachusetts senators were "solidified behind passage of the bill."

Bates said later that Bates had misinterpreted his remarks. "I did not say the bill would pass Congress," Harris said. "I said it was very likely that, as in the past, a civil rights bill would probably pass the House. But I expressed some doubt as to whether the bill would get through the Senate, and so did he."

L. R. Board Assigns 4th Graders

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock School Board assigned seven Negro fourth graders to integrated schools Thursday.

They will join eight Negro first graders in breaking the race barrier at the elementary school level this fall.

The board also reassigned one Negro student to Central High School Thursday, bringing to 123 the number of Negroes who will attend desegregated schools this fall. There were 77 last year.

The fourth grade assignments were made from a list of 13 Negroes who asked for transfer from all-Negro schools. The board decided to desegregate the fourth grade after it had made initial assignments for the coming term.

Action was withheld on applications by three other Negroes to attend Central. The board said Supt. Floyd Parsons could decide in these cases and Parsons indicated he would approve two of the three.

Thursday's action added one school — Woodruff Elementary — to the list of those which will have Negroes in September. Fifteen schools will be integrated.

Central High will have 33 Negroes. Hall High 10. Technical High 4. East Side Junior High 19. West Side Junior High 33. Forrest Heights Junior High 5. Southwest Junior High 1. Centennial Elementary 4. More Hot, Humid Weather Seen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More hot, humid weather was in prospect for Arkansas through the weekend with a slight drop in maximum temperatures the only relief in sight.

Maximums up to 100 degrees were forecast again for today but the prediction for Saturday was "in the 90s."

Arkansas missed a 100-degree reading Thursday, but Fort Smith and several other points had 99 degrees. Overnight lows ranged in the high 60s to mid 70s and temperatures in the same range were forecast for tonight.

The state had scattered showers again Thursday but measurements were light and the only rain at a regular reporting station was .07 inch at El Dorado.

Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON (AP)—Known losses in history's greatest train robbery approached the $7 million mark today Scotland Yard and police of 14 counties hunted the gang that ambushed the Glasgow-London mail train.

Unofficial estimates placed the loot at a staggering 3 million pounds ($8,400,000).

Most of the loot in the holdup near Cheddington, 40 miles northwest of London, comprised used banknotes, British paper currency. The currency, still negotiable, was being shipped by banks to London to be destroyed.

PROPOSED NATIONAL FISHERIES CENTER AND AQUARIUM

PROPOSED D.C. AQUARIUM—Sketch, above is cross-section of a gallery in the proposed Interior Department's National Fisheries Center and Aquarium. Galleries would connect a series of circular pools around the perimeter of the V-shaped facility. The controversial $10 million project has been criticized on grounds that the money could better be used for capital welfare or school affairs. Proponents maintain that cost, plus an estimated annual operating expense estimated at about $800,000, can be met from admission fees. The cross-section of the gallery shown locates research facilities on upper level at right, over tanks where fresh and salt water are purified. Public portion of gallery, at left, has fish tanks and educational displays.

CUT OFF—Invading Haitian exiles "have cut off the northern department of Haiti" in their drive to overthrow President Francois Duvalier, a rebel headquarters spokesman said in Santo Domingo, D. R. Rebel reports indicated one force is pushing toward the western coastal city of Gonaives (1), while another was apparently encircling Cap-Haitien (2), Haiti's second largest city. The Haitian government has charged the invasion started in the Dominican Republic, with border town of Ouanaminthe (3) the first to fall.

SERVICE IS ENDED—Blind Leamon Bunch's guide dog for 12 years has gone blind in the service of his master. The boxer, now almost 14 years old, will either be sent to a strange home or put to sleep. "It's just like getting rid of one of the family," Bunch said at his home in Chicago.

Broadway Integrates Show Casts

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway sets a record for shows with integrated casts.

Negro stars tell congressional probes a decent livelihood in the theater is virtually impossible. Those items from the 1962-'63 entertainment year give a good idea of the cross-trends to be considered in looking over the obviously sincere, cautious and mostly unpunished efforts of the American stage to keep step with the spirit of the times.

Picketing of two Main Stem theaters by the Congress of Racial Equality and the Committee for Employment of Negro Performers was tried 15 months ago—and hurriedly called off. The groups had chosen the only playhouse on Broadway which has a Negro manager, and in the other case were assailing a producer who pioneered the employment of Negro stagehands. There have been no demonstrations since.

Efforts to increase the percentage of Negro performers has been just part of the integration effort going on since about 1955. Jobs for scene shifters, assorted technicians and musicians have been sought successfully. There also has been agitation for employment of Negroes as ushers, boxoffice employees and other front-house attendants.

Actors Equity in 1955 started publishing annual reports on the number of Negro performers employed. Frederick O'Neal, a Negro who is Equity's vice president in charge of such matters, voices cautious optimism.

Admits State Is Now Home of Winthrop

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—After 10 years, the other Rockefeller's have acknowledged that Winthrop Rockefeller's home is in Arkansas.

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller admitted it Wednesday night before over 600 leaders in education, business, industry and politics who gathered for a party on the 10th anniversary of Rockefeller's coming to Arkansas.

"We miss you back home," he said to Winthrop. "We've always hoped that someday you'd come back East. But now, being here tonight, hearing these things, I know that your home is not back East. It's here, in Arkansas."

A 400-pound, 6-foot-high, 11-tiered cake was rolled out to the center of the overcrowded Marion Hotel ballroom to the surprise of Winthrop Rockefeller and his wife, Jeanette.

Each tier bore a line dealing with some facet of Winthrop's activities and accomplishments in Arkansas—accomplishments which Cass Hough, president of Daisy Manufacturing Co. at Rogers, called "the spirit of Winthrop Rockefeller."

Hough, one of six persons who lavishly praised Winthrop, said, "Our plant at Rogers, which employs 800 now, is a sign of how much we're impressed."

Dogcatcher Pays Off the Fine

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—Kenosha's dog catcher Ralph Thomas forfeited a $10 bond in County Judge Urban Zievers' court on Wednesday.

The charge—allowing his dog to run loose.

business, and Nelson Rockefeller. Among the notables in the audience was Gov. Orval E. Faubus. He, like the Rockefeller's, drew a standing ovation when he entered. Also in the audience were Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville, Faubus' Republican opponent in the 1962 election, and Donna Aron of El Dorado, the reigning Miss Arkansas.

Money, politics, the Kennedys and Faubus took some light ribbing throughout the program. Lauck remarked: "I'm not a member of an organized political party. I'm a Democrat."

Faubus joined in the festive mood, and led a standing ovation when Nelson Rockefeller stepped to the speaker's stand.

Steele lauded Rockefeller's support of educational aid to teachers and students.

Anderson said Winthrop and his wife were largely responsible for the building of the Arkansas Arts Center at Little Rock.

Winthrop also received a plaque commemorating the event, thanked the group as a whole and several individuals specifically, and asked: "With all these people here, I just can't understand why you didn't invite (Sen.) Barry Goldwater."

Nelson Rockefeller, a potential Republican candidate for president, joined in the laughter.

Later, at a news conference, the New York governor declined to discuss "anything political," saying "This is Win's night."

Negro in All TV Shows Demanded

EDITOR'S NOTE—Negroes threaten Hollywood with a nationwide boycott in a civil rights drive: Negro stars tell congressional probes a decent livelihood on Broadway is virtually impossible. Efforts of Negroes to accomplish their aims and the problems involved are detailed in the companion stories from Hollywood and New York.

By DAVE SMITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Negroes have made the entertainment capital a top target of their civil rights drive.

They threaten nationwide boycotts if they don't have their way. Hollywood industry and labor leaders say they are sympathetic, and have begun negotiations.

But there are serious problems, and even the most optimistic expect no overnight change in television and movie programming and production.

Negro demands are backed by such stars as Marlon Brando, Paul Newman, Charlton Heston, Joanne Woodward, Steve Allen, Frank Sinatra, Anthony Franciosa, Burl Ives, Debbie Reynolds, Joan Crawford and Bette Davis. Advancement of Colored People contends that Hollywood, except for recent films that address themselves specifically to the prejudice problem, still gives the Negro the "Uncle Tom" treatment—as a mental or comic character.

A threat to boycott Hollywood films and products of television sponsors unless Negroes show up soon in all phases of the film industry has spurred concern.

But three draft unions, Screen Artists' Local 816, Cameramen's Local 659, and Film Editors Local 776, have rejected demands that Negroes be assigned to film news as outlined by the NAACP. They contend that ascribing to the request would violate labor contracts, would amount to sanctioning "featherbedding" and would be contrary to California's fair employment law.

The Screen Actors Guild and the Association of Motion Picture Producers, have agreed on a contract with a clause calling on producers to cast performers "belonging to all groups in all types of roles."

In brief, the NAACP demands that:

1. Negroes appear in television commercials.
2. Negroes be shown in professional roles to balance racial roles.
3. Negroes comprise one-ninth of film casts and crews, since they comprise about one-ninth of the nation's population.
4. The Negro be depicted as he really is in the context of American life.
5. A Negro have a continuing role on each television series.

Unless a Negro technicians is installed on the crew of the "Hazel" television series, the NAACP threatens a nationwide boycott of the sponsor, Ford Motor Co.

Man 93. Dies on His Birthday

BLOOMING GROVE, Tex. (AP)—Richard R. Messingale appeared for work as usual at a feed store Wednesday.

He accepted congratulations from several friends because it was his 93rd birthday.

Then Messingale said he felt ill and stretched out on a bench to rest. A little later fellow workers found he had died.

NEW YORK (AP) — The long history of efforts to protect the general public in making stock investments has seen almost every danger tackled.

But all hands still leave as apparently unsolvable a prime one — protection of the stock buyer against himself.

The Securities and Exchange Commission's final installment on its long study of the 1961 stock market boom and the 1962 stock market bust rounds out a long list of new suggestions for protection.

But still the unwary and the greedy will risk coming in croppers in their pursuit of gains. The get-rich-quick gambler, the blind follower of tips, the ignorant of signs of trouble ahead for particular cooperations, doubtless always will be with us, like the poor — and probably also, will themselves join the ranks of the poor.

But the aids to wise investment have been piling up since the big 1929 market crash triggered the depression.

Some have been imposed by the government, especially in the early 1930s. Some have been adopted by the stock exchanges, both in the 1930s and since the 1962 market break.

More are under consideration now in Congress with apparently good chances of passing. The exchanges have indicated they are studying further tightening of their rules.

Outside the markets themselves there has been a marked expansion in recent years of financial and business reporting and the increased availability of such news in all parts of the country.

The earliest protection for stock buyers was mostly in the courts, and usually after the damage had been done. There were laws against outright fraud, but little compassion for the just plain stupid.

These laws have been steadily expanded and made more explicit, and stock exchange rules tightened.

But making a law against an evil doesn't always guarantee it won't pop up again.

Bucket shops — the fly-by-night sellers of questionable stock — are outlawed. But some citizens are still taken in by them before they are discovered by authorities.

Rigging the market for a stock, either on the up or down side, is forbidden — but still can happen if official guards are dropped.

Among practices coming under regulation is the disclosure of financial facts about corporations whose stocks are sold outside the exchanges.

Along with this are a variety of attempts to see that all stock transactions and holdings by insiders in a corporation are reported to the public — if it takes the trouble to look them up.

'Pop Art' Has Visitors Puzzled

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Visitors at the Los Angeles County Art Museum are puzzling over an exhibit of "pop art." This is a movement that stresses the painting of recognizable subjects. It's a reaction against abstract art.

The result: Massive oil reproductions of comic strips, soup cans, dollar bills, etc.

The exhibit was assembled by Lawrence Alloway, curator of art 12, at 2 o'clock p.m. at the Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ, Elder O. N. Dennis, Pastor officiating.

Mrs. Ray is survived by two sons, Willie and Junior Ray of Hope; two sisters, Mrs. Millie Brown of Hope, Mrs. Precious Townsend of Yuma, Arizona; five brothers, R. C. Ray and Alvin Ray of Texarkana, Texas, Nathaniel Ray of San Pedro, California, and Joe Ray of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Elmer Ray of Yuma, Arizona.

The Sunday School Department of BeeBee Memorial C. M. E. Church will sponsor a weiner roast at the home of Mrs. Iola Lee Muldrew Saturday night, August 10, 1963. The public is invited to attend.

NEW RAIL PARTNERS—Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio railroad workers reach across their respective diesel engines to shake hands at the Washington Union Terminal after affiliation of the two big eastern carriers became effective. The roads now enter a control period leading to eventual merger. Until then, they will operate independently. On the C&O planning boards for the B&O are improvements totaling $250 million. The combined roads form an 11,000-mile system.

THE STORY: Benson and Dorrus have signed a partnership agreement giving Benson control on Dorrus' ranch land along the Rio Grande river.

I was no skin off my nose. Keeping step with me, scowling, Dorrus presently pronounced, "You must do some considerable figuring to put money in his hands before you ever come near here."

He peered at me slantways. The stab of his stare held a grudging respect. "How much would you give for my place if you'd had to?"

I could almost have laughed at so ridiculous a thought. When I settled for the horses I had ordered sent down here I would not have more than $40 to my name.

I shrugged noncommittally. There was no scope for profit in explaining this to Dorrus.

I scraped up a smile. "Isn't half of Villalobos enough to satisfy you, Shiri?"

"I ain't got half a calf from it yet!"

The sulky planes of his cheeks, the edgy-tempered turmoil coming out of the yeasty churn of his suspicions was a foretaste, it looked like, of all the days piling up ahead of us.

But sufficient to the moment is the evil thereof. I pushed these nagging thoughts aside. I had trouble enough without borrowing problems I might never be faced with.

There was Linda Ybarra with her hungry eyes, and the question of how far I'd have to go with her.

"I want the fact to get around." The clerk presently came back and pushed my desk across the counter. There were tax stamps affixed to it and, at the top of the front fold, a rubber-stamped block replete with file number and a series of initials narrowly boxed across the bottom. It displayed additionally a date, a notary's seal and the recorder's signature.

"Fine," I grinned, and carefully put the paper away. I dropped some change on the counter.

"Your fee," I nodded. "Now post your ledger; I want that transfer to show."

"We don't post ledgers—" "You'll post this."

He backed off a bit, working up quite a glare. But it kind of played out on him. Fuming under his breath he got down another ledger, snatched up a pen, slapped over a handful of pages and, looking like a mouse with its tail in a crack, began an angry scribbling.

I watched over his shoulder. When he flung down the pen I nodded and we left.

"A man kin see," Dorrus rumbled as we came back on the street, "this ain't just somethin' you pulled outa thin air."

There was a puzzled resentment banging around through his tone. "Finchbone put you up to this, sport?"

"What difference?" I shrugged. "He would skin a flea."

He rolled bitter eyes. "How much of a stake has he got in this deal? You kin tell me that, can'tcha?"

"He's got nothing to do with it." "All believes that kin stand on their heads."

Let him think what he wanted.

Linz Homers in Yank Win; Cards Lose

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Necessity, the mother of invention who sometimes winks at major league managers, has shoved two of her stepchildren into the American League spotlight—Jose Azcue and Gary Peters.

Azcue, whose credits include his failure to old a job with Kansas City, stole home for Cleveland's first run Thursday night and scored the other after stroking a double to pave the way for a 2-0 victory over Baltimore in which batterymate Dick Donovan pitched a three-hitter.

It was the first steal of the season for the 23-year-old catcher, acquired from the A's along with his .213 major league batting average and immediately handed the No. 1 job at Cleveland when Johnny Romano was sidelined.

At the time, Azcue was the only available receiver. Now Romano's hard-pressed to regain his job, with Azcue hitting a creditable .279 with eight homers and 29 runs batted in.

Peters, who produced an 0-1 record in four previous shots at a major league berth, suddenly has developed into one of the hottest pitchers in the league, winning his sixth straight for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-3 triumph over Kansas City.

The 26-year-old left-hander, kept in the starting rotation by Manager Al Lopez despite a slow start, has posted an 11-5 record and produced an eye-opening 2.07 earned run average.

His latest triumph kept the second-place White Sox eight games behind the first-place New York Yankees, 3-1 winners at Washington.

Third-place Minnesota kept pace with a 3-0 decision over the Los Angeles Angels on Dick Stigman's six-hitter while Detroit belted Boston and Dick Radatz 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Chicago Cubs knocked off the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in 10 innings, the New York Mets downed St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh shut out Milwaukee 1-0. San Francisco and Houston were not scheduled.

Azcue singled and came home on the front end of a double steal in the seventh and scored the only other run off Steve Barber, 15-9, on Tito Francona's double in the ninth. Donovan, 7-10, allowed a first-inning single by Luis Aparicio. Rueses Snyder's bunt single in the fourth, and a double in the eighth by Jackie Brandt, the only Oriole to reach second base.

Peters was touched for three runs in the first three innings but settled down and permitted only two A's to reach base the rest of the way. Dave Nicholson hit a two-run homer to get the White Sox started and Al Weis cracked a two-run double in the sixth inning to put Chicago ahead to stay 4-3.

Phil Linz got the Yankees off ahead with a fifth-inning homer and they made it 3-0 in the eighth on a single by Tony Kubek. Bob by Richardson's double and a single by Tom Tresh.

Pine Bluff to Play Ft. Worth

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Hearne, Tex., handed defending national champion Fort Worth a 5-4 defeat last night in a regional Connie Mack baseball tournament.

Fort Worth must beat Pine Bluff, Ark., tonight to stay in the running for another title.

Corpus Christi beat Farmington, N.M., 5-1. The loss knocked Farmington out of the double elimination tournament.

While Fort Worth tries a comeback against Pine Bluff, Hearne plays Sikeston, Mo. Corpus Christi will play one of the winners late in the evening.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Jacksonville Suns picked up their third straight victory and their fifth in seven starts Thursday night, edging Arkansas 2-1 as right-hander Ruben Gomez twirled a three-hitter in International League baseball at Jacksonville.

Santo Leads Cubs to Win Over Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

For Comeback of the Year honors, how about Ron Santo, the Cub club cleanup replaced Ernie Banks as the Chicagoans' entry in the National League power trust?

Santo, handed the cleanup spot in the batting order despite a .227 batting average in 1962, paid another dividend on the gamble Thursday when he hit a pair of homers that powered the Cubs to a 5-4, 10-inning victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Santo hit his first homer in the fifth inning to tie the score, then won it in the 10th with a shot over the left field bleachers that ended the Cubs' four-game losing skid and trimmed the Dodgers edge over second-place San Francisco to 5½ games.

Santo, who hit .284 in 1961, floundered last year while his confusion was compounded by continually being shuffled in the batting order. He was tabbed for the No. 4 spot during spring training and told "the job's yours."

Once he got the promotion, he started earning it. The 23-year-old right-handed swinger is hitting .295, is tied for fourth place in homers with 20 and is third in runs batted in with 76. Last year he hit 17 homers and drove in 83 runs.

The slumping Banks, meanwhile, was released from a hospital and pronounced fit except for a minor infection in his blood stream. The two-time home-run king, hitting a woeful .226, entered the hospital after complaining of fatigue.

St. Louis dropped to third place, six games back, after losing to the New York Mets 3-2 on a home run by former teammate Duke Carmel. Cincinnati got home runs from Frank Robinson and Tommy Harper in a 6-3 decision over Philadelphia and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend blanked Milwaukee 1-0 on six hits. San Francisco and Houston were not scheduled.

The American League-leading New York Yankees whipped Washington 3-1, the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 5-3, Cleveland shut out Baltimore 2-0, Minnesota blanked the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and Detroit edged Boston 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Dodgers scored all their runs on homers in the fifth inning with rookie Al Ferrara connecting before Frank Howard and Moose Skowron hit consecutive pinch-hit homers. Santo tied the score in the bottom of the inning before tagging Larry Sherry for the homer that produced the Cubs 5th victory, equaling their entire 1962 production. The Cubs are fourth, 8½ games off the pace.

With the Mets and Cards tied 2-2, Carmel hit his first homer in the eighth inning to give Al Jackson his seventh victory. Charlie James' solo homer gave St. Louis a 2-0 lead before the Mets came back to tie in the fourth on singles by Ron Hunt, Frank Thomas, Carmel and Al Moran. Bobby Shantz was the loser.

Players Say Georgia Had a New Shift

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA (AP)—Two former Alabama football players have testified their team was not prepared for an offensive formation employed by Georgia in the 1962 game which a national magazine has said was rigged.

Testimony of the players was brought out Thursday in federal court by attorneys for Wally Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, in an effort to prove that Alabama did not have a pre-game tipoff on the opposing team's plans.

Butts is suing Curtis Publishing Co. for an article in Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post charging that Butts fed data on his team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama. He seeks $10 million damages.

Butts may take the stand today. Attorney William H. Schroder Jr., handling Butts' case, said the 58-year-old Butts would testify if he continued to feel all right.

Charlie Pell, a tackle on the 1962 Alabama team, said his squad had to change its defensive setup in the controversial game after Georgia came out with a split-end formation.

"Our coaches in the press box saw what was happening," said Pell.

"We weren't prepared for this information as to overshifting," he said.

Q. "From Sept. 1 until the Georgia game on Sept. 22, in planning its defense, did the University of Alabama concentrate or not on any two particular formations?"

A. "No, they did not."

Q. "Any three particular formations?"

A. "No, I couldn't say that."

PAN DANDIES—This catch is headed for the frying pan as quickly as Jerry Fults of Clayton, N.Y., can get them there. The black bass were landed in the Thousand Islands area of the St. Lawrence River.

STILL BELTING—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith is a belter, in or out of the ring. Here he takes a cut at the ball in a batting cage at a New Jersey amusement park.

Bear Denies Receiving Information

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA (AP)—Alabama football coach Paul (Bear) Bryant denied today that he had ever received information about Georgia's team from Wally Butts, former athletic director at Georgia.

Bryant was the first principal witness in behalf of Butts, who has sued Curtis Publishing Co. for $10 million because of an article in the Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post. The magazine charged that Butts fed pre-game data to Bryant last fall.

"Coach Bryant, will you please state for the court and jury whether in any conversation you had with Coach Butts at any time, he conveyed to you any information relating to any plays or formations for use in the forthcoming game with Alabama?" asked attorney William H. Schroder Jr.

Bryant, staring steadily at the defense lawyer, replied: "Absolutely not. If I had (received such information), I wouldn't have taken it because he's for Georgia and I'm for Alabama."

"If he would give me something on the University of Georgia, I would think they weren't going to use it."

The tall, broad-shouldered Alabama coach sat with his big hands clasped and leaned forward in the witness chair. His appearance, a day earlier than had been announced, provided a dramatic moment in the libel suit trial which began Monday.

In its defense against so libel suit, Curtis introduced notes which an Atlanta insurance salesman, George P. Burnett, said he wrote while listening to a Butts-Bryant telephone conversation Sept. 13, nine days before the game.

Three Georgia coaches, including head Coach Johnny Griffith, have testified the notes contain descriptions of two basic formations used in the game, won by Alabama 35-0.

Pell said he did not think it would be any advantage to know what formations an opposing team would use.

One of his 1962 teammates, guard Jimmy Sharpe, said Georgia's "slot out" information in the first quarter of the game surprised Alabama's defense.

Final Report on Market Probe Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Securities and Exchange Commission study committee said today there was no evidence of manipulation or illegal conduct in the sharp stock market break of 1962.

The committee agreed with a New York Stock Exchange report that no discernible single group, or circumstances, could be singled out as the cause of the tremendous drop in stock prices in late May of last year.

The special committee wound up a two-year study of the securities industry with recommendations for changes in the basic voting power on the New York Stock Exchange, for abolition or strict control over the heavy initial fees which some mutual funds charge investors, and for basic changes in the rules for buying stock on credit.

The third and final installment of the report echoed the committee's previous call for more vigorous self-regulation by the stock exchanges and other industry groups, such as the National Association of Securities Dealers.

At the same time, the commission disclosed in a letter to Congress that it plan to propose only one, or possibly two, pieces of legislation other than the package which recently passed the Senate and is awaiting House action.

Since the package measure has the support of the stock exchanges and other principal industry groups, the commission has no hotly controversial proposals to make to Congress.

Many of the sweeping changes proposed in previous sections of the 13-chapter report can be put into effect by a simple order of the commission.

As previously announced, the commission said it planned to submit to Congress next year a proposal for changing the method of quoting prices on over-the-counter stocks, and for placing some control over the process.

Over-the-counter securities are those not listed on exchanges. The SEC also said it would go along with new proposals the Federal Reserve Board might have in regard to the buying of stocks on credit.

The SEC indicated that it would discuss the matter with the Federal Reserve, which controls credit that is advanced for the purpose of buying or holding securities.

There were no specific recommendations in regard to preventing future sudden, wide swings in stock prices, but the study group said previous proposals for changes in the exchanges probably would help preserve an orderly market.

The previous proposals called for the elimination of floor traders, strict controls over floor specialists, and changes in the system of handling small transactions.

5 Million Chicks Started in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 5,037,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Aug. 3, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today, two per cent less than in the previous week.

The estimated total of 5,742,000 eggs set for broiler-type chicks in Arkansas during the week was eight per cent below the previous week.

The Bug-Killing Daisy

Clouds of death and destruction... of mites, worms, ticks, flies, ants, and locusts that killed crops, brought disease to men and livestock, were once humanity's greatest plague. Man finally struck back—but his chemical insecticides apparently were as harmful as the bugs themselves.

Many synthetic insecticides reportedly poisoned or sterilized wildlife, even harmed humans—while certain insect pests became immune. Science recently turned to Pyrethrum, a substance extracted from a bug-killing daisy cultivated in Kenya.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has approved Pyrethrum base insecticides—which kill insects on contact but won't harm people, birds, pets, forest animals. They're safe for use near babies, leave no appreciable residue in foods, come in aerosol cans for home use.
